VOLUME LXIV—No. 8

Stand Is Approved

From all over California have come telegrams, letters and phone calls to A. R. O'Brien approving the fight made by Mr. O'Brien against Governor Olson's ouster of the State Prison Board. Two, from famous Californians, are typical of the others. Here they are:

San Francisco, July 2.
A. R. O'Brien,
Ukiah, California.
Dear A. R.: Congratulations on the gallant fight you made. Like a great Captain you fought it out bravely to the bitter end, remaining with your ship until it foundered and you had to bail out. I admire your great fighting spirit and although victory was not yours, your battle was a glorious one and will long be recalled. You came out of the struggle with your principles undefiled and your ideals of Americanism unsmirched, an example to us all. So here's a salute to a great soldier from a warm and loyal friend.
LOUIS R. LURIE.

San Francisco, July 2.
A. R. O'Brien,
Ukiah, California.
Dear A. R.: I take my hat off to you as a glorious fighter. It was a pleasure for me to have had a part in such a battle.
JOHN L. McNAB.

LONG CONTEST OVER PRISONS IS TERMINATED

Illegal Actions Of Olson Are Found Not Reviewable

RESTRAINT IS CUT OFF

Nothing Left To Battle With, Board Was Powerless

THE CHRONICLE DID IT

It was The San Francisco Chronicle, once a Republican newspaper, that contributed, more than anything else, to the downfall of the Republican Prison Board. The Chronicle, for months, carried villifying front page attacks on the Prison Board, and upheld Governor C. L. Olson in his fight on the members, accordingly it is fit The Chronicle have its version of the downfall of the Board given top position. The Chronicle won the fight.

(By John U. Terrell in The San Francisco Chronicle)

A. R. O'Brien

The new State Board of Prison Directors has taken formal possession of California's penal system, successfully weathering the verbal bombast, invective and stubborn resistance of the old board which Governor Olson ousted. The San Quentin sector, scene of the dramatic and often bitter trial of the old board on charges of neglect of duty, was again the battlefront yesterday.

Two members of the deposed directorate—A. R. O'Brien and T. N. Harvey—held the fort against superior odds, and went down to defeat with fighting words on their lips.

The day opened ominously with both sides in battle array and advancing toward the foggy field within the penitentiary's walls. O'Brien and Harvey arrived first at the prison, and immediately O'Brien issued orders to Warden Court Smith the new board was not to be permitted through the gates.

EIGHT PHASES THAT HELD THE SPOTLIGHT

The orders were defied (Warden Court Smith did not carry out President O'Brien's command, but told the gateman to allow the Olson board to pass through) and the fight was on.

Before the day ended these phases of the controversy held the spotlight:

1 The old board, represented by the stubborn protagonists, O'Brien and Harvey, had quit. The two other old board members — Edward L. Abbott and John D. McGilvray — failed to appear and their whereabouts was not disclosed. O'Brien grieved: "I have been opposed in my own board."

2 Judge Isaac Pacht of Los Angeles was nominated temporary chairman of the new board, which will control the destinies

"OLD CHIEF" AS REAL TROUBLE-SHOOTER SEEN

When Redwood Highway Got Congested He Became Active

"CHIEF" SAVES DAY

Elephant Pushed Big Stalled Equipment Over The Hill

C. Howard was driving a huge truck and trailer double-decker, loaded with sheep along Redwood Highway last week and arrived at the "S" turn near Hillvilla when he got into trouble.

He Was Helpless.

On the turn the big outfits almost jackknifed the sheep shifted and Mr. Howard could not handle the truck. He tried to back, but the shift of the sheep had tilted the gas tank and he was stuck. The truck and trailer were now completely blocking the highway and autoists began to line up. In an hour there were more than 100 machines, with irate drivers wanting to know "what in the what "the truck driver was trying to do.

Relief appeared far removed.

Then This Happened.

Of a sudden a big addition to the stalled line of machines hove in sight. It was Hildebrand's Circus, which had played Ukiah. That arrival saved the day. The elephant trainer thought of Old Chief the ancient pachyderm and, after holding a short talk with Chief, the elephant ambled by the long line of stalled cars and came to the sheep trucks. He sized up the situation, switched his tail a few times and then, with his head down, his giant shoulders humped, he put his elepant-power against the first truck, straightened it out, shoved it onto the highway in proper position and then performed like service for the second.

Did Good Job.

The two machines were hooked up and "Chief" stepped in behind the last one and slowly shoved both the carriers up the hill.

Has A Hunch.

Driver Howard got his gasoline working properly and started on his way. Mr. Howard, who is a Republican, declares the relief the elephant from the Hildebrand circus brought the sheep trucks is an omen of the good service the Republican elephant will provide the United States in November.

TRAGIC TERMINATION

A happy family vacation trip ended abruptly with the tragic death of the young wife and mother of the group. Stricken with pneumonia, Mrs. Bernice Teegan, 36, passed away in Ukiah Monday, leaving her husband and three young sons to mourn her. VETERANS ARE FOR LOYALTY

Men Who Defended U. S. Urge Patriotism Today

Of particular importance in this time of world dissension is the promotion of Americanism, and an understanding of the respect due our national emblem. To further interest in these patriotic matters in this community, Ukiah Post No. 1900, Veterans of Foreign Wars, at its regular business meeting Thursday evening, appointed a committee, naming A. J. Leno chairman. All organizations in Ukiah are invited to join with this body in working out a permanent program for such activities, and those interested may get in touch with Mr. Leno.

Plan A Picnic.

During the evening A. L. Tatman was chosen delegate to the National Encampment in August, with Guss Wallach named alternate. Plans were discussed for the July 21 picnic to be held with Joy Madeiros Post 2015, of Lakeport. At the conclusion of the meeting the Ladies Auxiliary served refreshments to the present members.

Old-Fashioned Method Of Celebrating To Return

CEREMONIES AT PARK

Many Families Plan Picnic Under The Fine Old Oaks

Plans for a local Fourth of July celebration under direction of W. K. Davis are progressing rapidly. Gardner Johnson, President pro tem of the Assembly, will be speaker of the day and will be introduced by Senator George M. Biggar. Dr. R. A. Van der Las will read the Declaration of Independence. The theme of the entire program is to be Patriotism, and is not in any way to be political.

Many Floats Planned.

It is planned to have a parade through town to the Municipal Park which will be led by E. A. Eversole on horseback. It is reported there are more than 20 floats entered and hopes are there will be others. There is to be a clown band as well as the municipal band, and there is to be a contingent of decorated bicycles.

Families Invited.

At Municipal Park there will be speeches, games, a barbecue and on sale will be ice cream and soft drinks. It is hoped families will make a day of it, bringing their picnic lunches and joining in all the fun.

NEW RESERVOIR NEED IS SEEN

Shortage Of Water At Heryford Fire A Warning

DELAY DANGEROUS

The lesson taught by the fire at the home of Gerry Heryford last week should not be allowed to go unheeded. Ukiah is menaced by heavy losses in property because of the fact it has not the necessary reservoir facilities. Trustee Paul Poulos, who is trying to get backing for a modern water storage should be supported, and at once. The Thomas city administration, unfortunately, squandered enough city funds on a golf course, to make a good start on the contemplated reservoir. However, the money is gone. The thing to do now is to raise reservoir funds, and get busy.

Fire of undetermined origin gutted the house and destroyed all of the furniture in the home occupied by Gerry Heryford and family shortly after noon Thursday. Mr. Heryford complained of being ill that day and was awakened by the roaring flames and barely had time to make his escape. Mrs. Heryford and two small children had gone to the swimming pool in the City Park.

Water Supply Diminished.

By the time the fire department responded to the call the interior of the house was a roaring mass of flames and all the firemen could do was to save the outside walls and roof of the building and guard the surrounding property. The fire was not allowed to even break through the roof and the fact the walls and roof of the house are standing is a splendid advertisement of the efficiency of our fire department. To make a bad situation still worse the water department was filling the reservoir at the time and there was hardly any pressure in the pipes. The building is located one block west of the high school and belongs to Frank Tolman. It is reported there was no insurance and Mr. Tolman will rebuild.

Game Law Violator Sentenced To Jail

John Bosham, of Irmulco, killed a fawn and was taken before Justice C. A. Larson, of Willits, and fined $50. Not having funds to pay the fine Mr. Bosham was sent to jail.

GAVE US ALL A BIG THRILL

Thursday night when some member of the California delegation demanded a poll of the delegation's vote for president at the Republican convention hundreds of people in Mendocino county who sat at their radio listening to the proceedings coming over the air, held their breath when the name of Banker C. M. Mannon was called. Old line Republican he has always been and most people accepted for fact he would vote for Herbert Hoover, but much to their surprise and greatly to their approval, the voice of Mr. Mannon came clearly through the ether, as steady as when he is telling you he cannot make you a loan, "Wendell L. Wilkie." The vote of Mr. Mannon is in line with public sentiment here.

Special Correspondence of The Press

ANDERSON VALLEY, July 1.—The friends of the H. V. Nichols family will regret to learn Mr. Nichols, who has been in a San Francisco hospital the past month, is in very serious condition and two blood transfusions have been given him within the past few days. Reports from the hospital are that, when conscious, he is suffering intense pain from which there is no relief. Mrs. Nichols took her husband to San Francisco and has been with him constantly.

Attended The Funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gentry and E. O. Hotell motored to Concord Friday to attend final services for Mrs. May Kelley, 70, which were held Saturday. Mrs. Henry Nunn and daughter, Mrs. E. O. Hotell, motored to Concord 10 days ago on learning of the critical condition of Mrs. Kelley and remained with her to the end. Mrs. Kelley was the last surviving member of the Nunn family, being a sister of the late Henry Nunn and an aunt of Mrs. Hotell and Mr. Gentry.

A Providential Escape.

Harry Afort, of San Francisco, who was enjoying a vacation here as guest of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Babcock, suffered a broken left arm while fishing in Soda creek Thursday morning and is lucky he escaped death from drowning. Mr. Afort left the Babcock home early in the morning for a day's sport and was fishing in a large pool from his place on a rock when, in the excitement of catching his first fish, he lost his footing and fell, striking his head. When he regained consciousness he was wedged between two boulders with water up to his chest and only support of the rocks had prevented his faling in the pool. On trying to move he found he had sustained a broken arm, but he managed to get to his car and drive back to Boonville where Dr. N. F. Robinson rendered first aid. The vacationist was driven to San Francisco by Jimmy Babcock where he re-entered the French Hospital, where he had been a patient some time and had only been released a few days before coming here. He plans to return here but says "Fishing is out."

He Was Liberal.

One feature of the robbery at Manchester 10 days ago got little publicity, but it has an inter-

BRIDGES MUST NOT BE GIVEN HI AUDITORIUM

School Board Assumed An American Position

IS NOT WANTED THERE

Fort Bragg Trustees Mince No Words Denying Alien

WHERE HE STANDS

The San Francisco Industrial Council (CIO), of which Harry Bridges is the controlling figure, adopted a resolution opposing President Roosevelt's proposed compulsory military and industrial training program for American youth and compared it with "the so-called 'strength through joy' movement established by Adolph Hitler." The existence of such "forced labor would mean the end of unionism in the mass production and war industries," the resolution said.

Harry Bridges is not welcome in Fort Bragg and will not be allowed to speak in the public school auditorium, the trustees of the high school in the coast city have announced.

Board Merits Praise.

The stand taken by the school board of Fort Bragg is the right one and it should be emulated by every school board in California.

It's Not The Place.

The story of what took place following the Bridges request being handed the school board reads, according to The Fort Bragg Advocate: "The Board of Trustees of the Fort Bragg high school, at their last meeting, unanimously agreed Cotton Auditorium was not the place for Harry Bridges to make a speech."

A Sizzling "No."

In accordance with their decision, the following letter was mailed to each group that petitioned for the use of the auditorium: "Your request for use of Cotton Auditorium for a meeting at which Harry Bridges will be the principal speaker is unanimously rejected. We feel that the radical and un-American attitude of your proposed speaker makes it entirely undesirable for him to use Cotton Auditorium now, or at any future time."

Radicals Displeased.

The Board will be condemned for its action by some groups, but the majority of businessmen and citizens of Fort Bragg agree with the Board in refusing Cotton Auditorium to Bridges.

YOUNG MATRON DIES SUDDENLY

Mrs. J. Williams Believed Recovering, Sinks Into Death

Friends of Mrs. James Williams of Hopand were shocked and saddened at news of her death Tuesday noon at Ukiah General Hospital. Mrs. Williams had undergone an operation two weeks ago, and had appeared to be on the road to recovery, planning, in fact, to leave the hospital on the very day death took her.

A Ukiah Girl.

She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Davis, of Ukiah, and daughter-in-law of Sheriff and Mrs. E. L. Williams. Besides her husband and parents, she leaves to mourn her loss the following sisters and brothers: Mrs. Arthur Schilder, Mrs. James Crosby and Mrs. V. L. Porter, all of Sacramento, Mrs. O. C. Linn of Oakland, and Richard and Karl Davis of Ukiah. The community extends deep sympathy to the bereaved family which only last week gathered happily to celebrate the occasion of the fortieth anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Davis' wedding.

At press time funeral arrangements had not been completed.

MENDOCINO IS CLAIMANT FOR SIGNAL HONOR

Two Local Orators In Other Days Nominated Presidents

FINE JOBS WERE DONE

John L. McNab And George A. Knight Brought Fame

(By Fred Loring)

Now that the National Republican Convention is over it recalls the history of previous conventions at which Mendocino county citizens took a leading part. The men referred to are George A. Knight and John L. McNab. Both were famous orators with a national reputation and, in a great many respects, were alike. Mr. Knight placed William McKinley in nomination at the convention held in Chicago in 1900 and Mr. McNab had the honor of keynoting Herbert Hoover in 1928.

Loved Mendocino.

This article will deal with Mr. Knight for he has long since passed on to his reward and it is not considered good form to eulogize the living. George Knight was raised in Humboldt county and made his wealth and national reputation in San Francisco. About the turn of the century Mr. Knight purchased a large stock ranch at the south end of Long Valley and it was there he got the greatest pleasure out of life. He used to say, jokingly, he worked hard in San Francisco to support his ranch in Mendocino county. To a great extent this was true for he was continually making improvements and was almost a generation ahead of other local ranchers. In order to bring out this point it is well to tell about his famous fence. Prior to his time practically all of the rough range land was unfenced and twice a year the stockmen had a roundup at which they picked out all stray stock and returned them to their owners, for all kinds of stock

An unfortunate accident made Walter Sandelin an overnight patient at Ukiah General Hospital, and will confine him to his home several days. While enjoying a game of badminton Sunday evening at Laurel Dell, Mr. Sandelin slipped, and in falling broke his arm just above the wrist.

BOY DROWNED AT CAMP INIS

Lake Waters Claimed Life Of An Oakland Visitor Friday

A tragic occurrence at Camp Inis Friday was the drowning of Melvin Bua, 18-year-old Oakland youth. The young man, with two friends, had come to the resort only a few hours earlier in the day. None of the boys were strong swimmers and when Melvin Bua went down, his companions were not able to aid him promptly.

Could Not Be Revived.

When his body finally was removed from the lake, members of the Red Cross, who are staying at Laurel Dell worked over him, hours, but were unable to revive him. The body was taken to Russell Funeral Home, Lakeport, where it was prepared for burial and shipped to Oakland where the funeral took place Monday.

WILLITS SHOW ATTRACTING A GREAT CROWD

Unusual Attendance Indicated By Advance Throngs

FAMOUS STARS THERE

Programs Will Vary From One's Seen In Past

Special Correspondence of The Press

WILLITS, July 2.—Our Frontier Days celebration takes place Wednesday and Thursday of this week and it promises to be the largest and best we ever had. The streets are decorated with strings of colored lights and flags and all of our businessmen have fallen in line and have their establishments decorated in pretty and unique fashion. The show windows in the Irvine & Muir building probably have the most novel exhibits which consist of articles more than 100 years old, among which is a spinning wheel, a rocking chair claimed to be 200 years old and some old-fashioned dishes and bowls one can tell are ancient just by looking at them. There is also an old flag which has only 36 stars and as stars are placed according to number of states it can be easily seen the country was young when it was made.

Carnival, Dancing, Parades.

A large carnival company has installed numerous attractions in the City Park and there will be dances at the pavilion. Both days there will be street parades prior to rodeo events and some of the floats are exceptionally good and the cowboys and cowgirls in their colorful shirts and large hats will give the parade a real wild western appearance.

Will Eliminate Dust Nuisance.

The rodeo grounds have been put in splendid shape and the management has arranged to keep the track well sprinkled. Some of the best rodeo stock to be obtained in the state has already arrived and also some of the best professional riders and entertainers. Bud Bentley, a professional announcer will preside at the microphone and every event will be announced by the names of the broncs and riders.

Topnotchers Oversee All.

Judges, timers and other officials for the rodeo have been announced. Judges for the bucking bronc contests are Bob Studnick of Santa Rosa and Philip Winegar of Livermore. Henry Haehl and Dr. L. M. Cox are timers. Ray Kane of Ridgewood ranch will be track judge and track starter will be Norman Buhn of Ukiah.

They Were Honored.

Miss Evalyn Robley won the Sweetheart contest and she and her maids, Mae Steen and Ethel Gunn, were guests of honor at the opening dance which was held at the pavilion Saturday night.

Children Put It On.

The annual amateur contest was held at the city park Wednesday night and a large number of children participated. This is one of the attractions staged annually for the Frontier Days celebration.

Policeman Died.

On his fourteenth annual visit to Willits Frontier Days celebration, Lawrence Dalmas, 48, member of San Francisco police force, was stricken with a heart attack, and died early Sunday at the home of Mrs. Perry Smith at Willits. Mr. Dalmas' widow and two children, Margaret and Lawrence, Jr., left for San Francisco Sunday afternoon and Eversole Mortuary took charge of shipment of the body to that city.

WE'VE GOT A CHANCE

WHEN WENDELL L. WILKIE was nominated by the Republicans as a candidate for the presidency Thursday night the Republican party received, it might be termed, a "shot in the arm." It was the first time in half a century party leaders went out of control of the old guard.

The Convention did not listen to Hoover. It ran by Landon like a train from a tramp and it offered the people of the United States a businessman, instead of a politician, as one the people could place at the head of their government in the most trying time this nation ever faced.

Wendell L. Wilkie will put businessmen in key positions in the government. They will be expected to get results, not votes. Instead of inviting an attack by a nation suffering rabies while we are unprepared to fight, he will begin a tremendous defense program and do his utmost to prevent hostilities. He will halt the mad throwing away of money and use our funds to build up the air forces, the navy and the army. He will end the regimentation of business and permit capital to re-start factories and industries of the greater kind will be encouraged to get active and put men in a position to earn salaries, instead of forcing thousands of them to, shamefacedly, accept doles.

The thing to do now is for every real American to get behind the Republican candidate and help him stop the sinful throwing away of money now used to support hundreds of thousands of Communists on relief and to use the funds now going to them to pay wages for the laborers who will provide the United States the strongest defense possible to create and also to help Wilkie from allowing America to be plunged into war as President Roosevelt and his renegade warmonger Republican cabinet members appear so intent on doing.

QUEST FOR FAITH

BOB ELLIOT, OF THE DAILY NEWS, said a lot the other day when, in the metropolitan daily his page appears in, he commented thus:

"Without faith, life is a desert. He who has no faith has no strength. He is like a ship drifting with neither sail, rudder, nor anchor.

"Faith in something, that is. It does not so much matter in what. Faith in religion, faith in science, faith in a political system, faith in eventually getting the jackpot in the corner slot machine, faith in something.

"Our weakness today is not so much in the lack of planes and cannon, as in our lack of faith. It is here that Germany has gained such an initial advantage over France and England. Hitler gave the Germans faith, often an unwilling faith, often a grudging, desperate faith, faith in things which to us are unworthy and despicable, but something to which to cling.

"The British "bright young people" were thoroughly disillusioned after the World War. Everything was phony. Nothing mattered. France, too, was shot through with a spirit described by a French phrase best translated as 'what-the-hell-ism.' This spirit was prevalent in Germany, too, in the early twenties.

"But the black pall of depression descended on Germany 10 years and more before it struck westward. Men had to grasp for new and strange faiths. Such as they were, they found them.

"In other countries: Cynicism. The war? A conspiracy by the armament makers! World organization for peace? A lot of professors and politicians! Religion? The opium of the people! Labor organization? A bunch of racketeers! Democracy? Politicians gypping the people! Morality? Don't be dull!

"Well, there it is. But the fun is over, and now even the brightest of the 'bright young people' of England know that all that time they had something infinitely worth defending, worth dying for, if necessary. They know it now. Whether it is too late, no man can tell.

"Archibald MacLeish, librarian of Congress and one of our greatest poets, is no mere rhymer, but a poet in the real and original sense of a seer, one who looks deeply and sees clearly. He said recently: 'Unless we regain the conviction that there are final things for which democracy will fight, we can leave our planes unbuilt and our battleships on paper, for we shall not need them.'

"He is right. The lines of that faith are clearer now with every shattering bomb that fell in Flanders. It is when they are so gravely threatened that we see at last the precious worth of freedom, and religion, and tolerance, and morality, and the whole panorama of our democratic way.

"Our faith in, our devotion to, these things can be felt in these hours, hardening and tempering itself in the fires of adversity. What the hour requires, man brings forth."

The other day in San Francisco I was among 10,000 men and women, of all denominations who listened to an Irish priest from Chicago who pictured the dark hours which come to all of us, in which we lose hope and, in our depression are on the point of giving up. We forget courage, which is another name for faith. But we never should give up, for, as the eloquent Irishman I listened to said, in speaking of the saddest hour Christendom ever had to go through—the tragedy on Mount Calvary — "Remember Good Friday was followed, just two days afterward, by Easter Sunday."

Friday, the crucifixion occurred, and it was succeeded, just two days later, by the resurrection and the glorification of the world.

Sidelights of Sadness

Being incidents connected with California's State Prisons as observed by A. R. O'Brien, editor of The Republican Press, who is the chairman of State Board of Prisons of California.

WHEN 2 LAWYERS MOVED TOO LATE

San Quentin reservation presented a deserted aspect. The prisoners were locked up; although it was after nine o'clock and policing was not of the usual character. It was an execution day. A man, who had committed a most vicious murder, was about to be executed in the gas chamber. He had been brought down from condemned row the night before and was in the little death chamber in the lethal gas house. He had been cut off from communication with the outside a number of hours and, before many more minutes would pass ,he would be put to death.

Witnesses at the execution, those legally required, had assembled and were observed in a small group. There were the newspapermen and some who had asked for cards which would permit them to see the unfortunate man killed in the house of death. Time drags unusually slow just before an execution. Everyone is ill at ease on such occasions and anything which will create a topic of discussion, other than the grim act itself, is quickly seized upon to make conversation. At 25 minutes before the hour set for the execution an automobile drove up and came to a stop in front of the Administration building and two men, greatly agitated, got out. They sought the nearest guard and after talking to him, went across the yard. Reaching the gas chamber they asked to see the warden who, at that moment, happened to be busily engaged in seeing all details of the execution were being taken care of. It is unusual, when the head of the prison is performing such duties, for anyone to be allowed to disturb him.

On this particular day, however, the guard went into the gas chamber and soon Warden Court Smith came out. The men engaged the Warden in earnest conversation. It was evident to those in sight Warden Smith was trying to talk the men out of whatever they were pleading for. At last the Warden appeared to consent to do what they evidently had been asking for and the two men went into the gas chamber with the Warden. When it was seen the new arrivals did not stop in the little corridor outside the gas chamber but went on in behind it and to the death cell where the condemned man was trying to nurse up courage for his coming death, newspapermen began to scent a story and, when the grapevine came with the report the two were carrying on in a most demonstrative manner, the reporters got a hunch either one or both the men, who had gotten to the scene of the execution at the last moment, must be brother to the condemned man. This conclusion appeared to get verification when the two came out, deeply affected in appearance, and drove away.

The execution hour came and the condemned man was put to death. After seeing the gas chamber was cleared of spectators, Warden Smith came out. The reporters hurried to him and asked for a story. Were the men the brothers of the man just executed? The Warden said they were not. The reporters insisted, because they manifested such great dejection they must have been. The Warden would not tell them anything about the pair—

But, I happen to know the two men were attorneys who had defended the prisoner. At the last moment they had learned the condemned man had $250 to his credit at the prison and they came to get him to assign the sum to them, but, the day before, the condemned man had made a will and left the money and some personal effects to his aunt.

Motorists Hurt On Eastern Trip

A letter from their daughter-in-law has advised Attorney and Mrs. J. E. Pemberton of a mishap suffered by their eldest son, Bennett, while on a vacation trip. With his wife, and a lady friend of hers, the local couple's son had been enjoying a tour which took them as far as Washington, D. C. On the return trip, in a suburb of Chicago, they encountered a wind storm of such violence a tree was swept down and fell across their car. Mrs. Pemberton and her friend suffered only minor injuries, while Mr. Pemberton received a fractured knee cap, for which he was given first aid at a nearby hospital, and then he returned to Berkeley by train. He is in the General Hospital there.

MRS. O. BATES LAID TO REST

Round Valley Mourns Lovely Character Just Taken

Special Correspondence of The Press

COVELO, July 1.—A few days ago sad news, like a frowning cloud o'er-shadowed one of our Round Valley homes when Mrs. Omar Bates departed from this earth no more to mingle with relatives and friends until the resurrection day. For many months Mrs. Bates had been a patient at her home and her husband, who was singularly devoted, has had a most sad strain to bear, during her sickness; and since recovery was impossible, death was a release from suffering. Parthenia Hurt Bates was born August 17, 1870, in Scott's Valley, Lake county, and died June 22 at her home here. In 1896 she married the late Hiram Tuttle and to this union two children were born, Miss Ruby N. Tuttle of Santa Rosa and Harold C. Tuttle of Covelo. Following the turn of the century, Mrs. Bates was a staff member of the Round Valley Indian Reservation Institute and while living there her life and Mr. Bates' intermingled and in 1912 they were joined in happy wedlock at Redwood City. She was a member of Augusta Chapter, O. E. S., Covelo.

Obsequies were held Monday from the Federated church, which was beautifully decorated by members of the Mutual Aid Society. Rev. Douglas Noble read the service. Singers were Mrs. Chas. Lovell, Mrs. J. S. Rohrbough, Harold Goodwin, W. T. Gray, Mrs. G. R. Redwine, accompanist. Lavish floral offerings, with which scores of friends conveyed their sorrow at parting and their sympathy to the bereaved family, flanked the casket which was draped with a blanket of pastel gladiolus, carnations and white gardenias.

The Sorrowing Relatives.

Surviving members of the family are the husband, Omar Bates, daughter Miss Ruby Tuttle, son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Tuttle, a sister, Mrs. Molissa Gravier, and brother, Tod Hurt Nephews of deceased acted as pallbearers—M. E. Gravier, George Gravier, B. L. Hurt, James Walters, R. T. Hurt and W. L. Hurt. Burial was in Masonic cemetery. Members of the family express their deepest gratitude to all who were so kind during their bereavement and throughout their loved one's sickness.

In Memoriam.

One of our dear neighbors has left us

And thy loss we deeply feel,
But 'tis God who has bereft us,
He can all our sorrows heal.
Yet again we hope to meet thee
When the day of life is fled,
And in Heaven with joy to greet thee
Where no farewell tear is shed.

A New Resident.

Last week's population addenda—first offspring of Grant and Zella Winters, a daughter, and first granddaughter of the T. B. Hills, also first great-granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Norton. The little pink lady was a Wednesday arrival at Howard Memorial Hospital, Willits, with Dr. Raymond A. Babcock attending. NAGGING BACKACHE

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action. Don't Neglect It!

Modern life with its ceaseless hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking, exposure, contagion whatnot, keeps doctors busy, hospitals crowded. The after effects are disturbing to the kidneys and oftentimes people suffer without knowing that disordered kidney action may cause the trouble.

After colds, fever and similar ills there is an increase of body impurities the kidneys must filter from the blood. If the kidneys are overtaxed and fail to remove excess acid and other harmful waste, there is poisoning of the whole system.

Symptoms of disturbed kidney function may be nagging backache, persistent headache, dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of strength and energy. Other signs of kidney or bladder disturbance sometimes are burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

In such cases it is better to rely on a medicine that has won world-wide approval than on something less favorably known. Use Doan's Pills. They have been winning new friends for more than forty years. Be sure to get Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

THE REASON DOAN'S ARE FAMOUS

All over the country grateful people tell others: "Doan's have helped me; I recommend them to you." That is why we say Ask your neighbor!

DOAN'S · PILLS

THE TAXES YOU PAY

You have heard a lot about spending by the government. About extravagance in government. But—should you object to this spending and extravagance? Does it make any difference to you?

Today YOU pay 6½ cents tax on one package of cigarettes. YOU pay 4½ cents tax on one gallon of gas. YOU pay 11 cents tax on one deck of cards. YOU pay a 10 per cent tax on admissions to places of amusement, including theatres.

The tax on beer runs as much as 10 cents to the quart—and this is the reason Mendocino county hop growers do not receive higher prices.

If you receive a salary in excess of $66 a month you may have to file an income tax report. And income taxes in California (including State and Federal) run as high as 90 per cent. If you should inherit some money, taxes might take as much as 90 per cent.

All taxes collected only pay for one-half the cost of government. The national debt of 50 billions—and rapidly increasing—will also have to be paid by you, or your children.

Certainly you care! Certainly you want to do something about this extravagance and expense.

Fight the "New Deal" extravagances in every way you can. Especially at the ballot box. Many can fight by following the example of Wendell Willkie: Change your registration to "Republican."

LURES OF SOUTH RECALLED BY UKIAH VISITORS

Upon their return from the Rotary International Convention at Havana, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilson report a most entertaining three weeks of business combined with pleasure. Together with a large group of fellow Rotarians, the Wilsons left San Francisco June third and proceeded to Los Angeles where more Rotarians and their wives boarded the train.

A "get acquainted" party among all Rotary members on the train took place at Yuma, Arizona, and established a feeling of good-fellowshinp which was the keynote for the remainder of the trip.

Arriving at Houston, Texas, the group were met by Rotary members of that city, and each Rotary-Ann was presented a corsage of gardenias, following which a three-hour sightseeing tour was enjoyed. A four-hour stop-over in New Orleans gave Rotarians an opportunity to sample the famous restaurants, particularly in the Old French Quarter.

At Jacksonville, Florida, the travelers were entertained at the George Washington Hotel, and left there at midnight for Miami, where several hours were devoted to sightseeing, part of the time being enjoyed at famous Florida Beach.

One of the most delightful parts of the entire trip, according to Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, was the cruise to Havana. The party made their headquarters at the Sevilla Biltmore Hotel there, and for several days business sessions of the convention took up the greater part of the visiting Rotarians' time. To Mr. Wilson the Round Table discussions at the convention were most interesting; present war conditions were discussed at great length, and the opinions of those present from foreign countries proved to be very enlightening.

At the convention's close the travelers retraced their steps to Miami, and thence to Jacksonville and Pensacola, where some time was passed at Pensacola Beach and on the island Santa Rosa which is across the bay from Pensacola in the Gulf of Mexico.

The trip home was made by practically the same route as that taken to the convention. More time was passed in New Orleans on the return, giving Mr. and Mrs. Wilson the opportunity of seeing almost the entire city. Antiques seemed to be the outstanding theme of interest there, and the local people greatly enjoyed the "different atmosphere" of New Orleans.

HONORED AT DINNER

Before leaving for a three weeks' vacation in Los Angeles, Mrs. Herman Carter was honored at a luncheon Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Bob Haselwood. Those present were Mesdames Charles M. SAFE ROBBER'S LIBERALITY IS NOW EXPLAINED

George West Appears To Good Advantage Near Philo

Safe-Cracker Halted In Flight To Help Companions

esting connection with the flight from the Mendocino county coast town. The Solano officers recovered about $1400 of the money stolen. It appears Mr. West, in his get-away from Manchester, ran into a stump near Boonville and occupants of the bandit car were injured. He went to Boonville to get aid and Dr. N. F. Robinson, who attended the injured, and Ray Wheeler, who took them to Cloverdale, did not know they were dealing with robbers until they read the county papers and learned of the capture of George West and his companions last week. Both had been impressed with what they thought was an unusual situation.

Made A Flash.

When Bandit West ran into a stump near the J. W. Reilly ranch he left Mr. Reilly to guard the car and brought Mrs. Johnson and the girl companion to Boonville for treatment. At 5 a.m. before going back to the wreck, Mr. West placed two $10 bills on the table, telling the doctor if that was not enough to cover his charges there was plenty more where it came from. Mr. Wheeler took Mr. West back to the scene of the accident and Mr. Reilly joined them. Mr. West at once got in the car while Mr. Reilly and Mr. Wheeler began picking up tools and money scattered about. They found $12 or $13, mostly in dimes. Mr. West advised Mr. Reilly to rake the ground after moving the wreckage, saying he would probably find $5 more. The car was left in Mr. Reilly's care and the tools in Mr. Wheeler's. To each he gave his name as George West. He also gave this name to Dr. Robinson and registered under that name at U. S. Hotel, Cloverdale. Several stitches were necessary to close the scalp wound for Mrs. Johnson and the patients stayed at Dr. Robinson's office from 5 to 9:30 a.m., leaving at that time for Cloverdale.

A New Minister.

Rev. Ellsworth Hartsfield arrived Monday from Anderson to replace Rev. W. R. Haselden, who is retiring as pastor of the local Methodist church. Mrs. Hartsfield, who at present is taking a rest cure, will join her husband here in September. It is hoped Rev. Hartsfield will enjoy his work here.

Mrs. George Johnson is quite ill and has been confined to her bed the past week at her home in Philo, but is reported to be improving.

Treated The Scholars.

Mrs. V. R. Rawles, teacher of Anderson school, took the two members of her eighth grade to Treasure Island for a day's celebration as a graduating present Wednesday. Her guests were Beverly Ridley and Dick McAbee. In Cloverdale Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Decatur joined the party and motored to the Exposition with them.

Mrs. Jessie McCarty passed the first of the week in Willits to be near her niece, Mrs. Willie Ornbaun, who is in a very serious condition in Howard Memorial Hospital, Willits.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Ingram enjoyed a visit recently from their daughter and granddaughter.

To Assist Afflicted.

Mrs. Jack Meyrick and Miss Eleanor Meyrick, of Berkeley, Mr. and Mrs. James Hotell, of Washington, are here to make their home with Mr. Hotell's mother, Mrs. Flora Hotell, whose eyesight has almost completely failed. Mrs. Hotell has been making her home with another son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Hotell, on the Nunn ranch at Philo, and everything possible was done for her comfort, but she longed for her home place—and so the change.

Took Examination.

Mrs. J. E. Palmer motored to Ukiah Friday to take the examination for attendant at the State Hospital.

At The Countyseat.

Among Valley visitors in Ukiah Friday were E. Hogan, M. E. McGimsey, Mrs. Neva Dennison, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Gossman.

Paul Ketcham motored to Healdsburg Friday to take Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Lawson who are under the care of Dr. D. C. Oakleaf.

Visit Grandparents.

Leo Sanders and sons, Bill and Bob, of Covelo, were guests of Mr. Sanders' parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Sanders, over Sunday. Bill remained for a visit with his grandparents. Leo Sanders is manager of the Covelo baseball team which played Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Palmer and son left Saturday for Modesto where Mr. Palmer has secured work. They expect to be away all summer.

Mrs. Alyce Dightman and small daughter, Judy, are visiting friends in San Leandro.

Mrs. Werner Holzhauser passed several days in San Francisco.

NEW THEATRE ADMISSION PRICES

For the first time since the World War motion picture audiences wil pay a tax on admission tickets in the state of California. The new Federal tax laws passed by Congress to raise additional funds for America's new defense program compel the movie-going public to contribute their pennies at the box-office windows of the nation's 17,000 motion picture theatres.

By recent agreement, theatres in California have decided not to raise present admission price levels, but to add the amount of the tax to each ticket.

Prices at the local theatre, effective July 1, 1940, are as follows:—

Children (under 12) ..... 10c (no tax)

Matinee Student Price ..... 15c one tax

Regular Student Price ..... 25c plus 3c tax=28c

Adult Price ..... 35c plus 4c tax=39c

Loge Price ..... 40c plus 4c tax=44c

SENATOR G. M. BIGGAR APPROVES THE ACTION OF THE CONVENTION

The Republican National Convention last week fulfilled the hopes of the people of the United States. The prayer that has been in the hearts of us all for good men, strong and true, to guide us in the dark days that lie ahead, seems answered.

Never since the nomination of Lincoln have we had such a fine demonstration of the people dominating a party convention as we had in Philadelphia. Machine politics was smacked down on every turn and the will of the people prevailed.

The nomination of Wendel L. Willkie and Charles R. McNary was as near a coalition choice as most ardent coalitionists could desire. Both traditional Democrats and real Republicans can unite behind these men with full confidence that their ideals will be served.

The nomination of these men has done something else for America that is of tremendous importance: It has revived the old tradition that a man can come from poverty to the presidency. A few short years ago Wendel L. Willkie was a migrant farm worker in our State. By sheer hard work and strength of character he educated himself and forced his way to the top. Obstacales to him were but incentives to greatest effort.

During the past few years we have heard the doleful wails of the defeatists there is no hope for the young peope of today. Wendel L. Willkie is a living denial of these men of little faith. Who knows but what the Dust Bowl refugees or the migratory workers coming to California may be nurturing a future president of the United States? It is good that this thought has been revived.

The future of the United States, as I intimated in my article last week, and the hopes of the world have been brightened by the action of the Republican Convention.

A feeling of confidence and a sense of profound relief seems to have filled the hearts of the people since the nomination of these fine men.

The spirit of Liberty, Equality and Justice is again in our land. God bless America.

G. M. BIGGAR.

Covelo, June 29, 1940.

ASSESSMENTS DIP SLIGHTLY

Assessor's Figures Indicate A Trifling Falling Off

County Assessor Kirk Ford finished tabulating the county assessment for the present year and it shows a loss of about $170,000 compared with last year. Assessment this year is $24,911,299.66 and last year it was $25,182,308.

What Accounts For It.

Most of the loss is due to the cutting of timber and loss of several sawmills. Ranch and personal property is practically the same as last year. Ukiah and Willits both have a gain and Fort Bragg a loss. The latter is due mostly to the burning of one unit of the Union Lumber Company's mill.

RANGE GROWTH STUDY IN NEVADA IS GETTING EXCELLENT RESULTS

By Edith Murphey

On June 11 at Stewart, Nevada, home of Carson Indian school and agency, a study of range plants and grasses on four Reservations, and two ranches operated by Carson school was completed. This project has stretched over the growing season for the years 1938, 1939 and 1940 (conducted by Mrs. Murphey).

Quoting from "Desert Friends," a text on native plants and grasses, prepared for classroom use at Carson School in 1939: "The Indians of this area had started a stock-raising program, and many of the cattle were dying from poisonous plants. They needed to know which plants should be preserved and helped to spread; which should be destroyed or controlled. The usage of good range practices and soil conservation methods needed to be learned, if their cattle program was to be successful."

"The vast store of knowledge about the old Indian uses of native plants, as food, medicine and utilities, needed to be recorded.

"Nevada offered an ideal region for a study of native plants as the territory is practically virgin, in that none of the plants have been exterminated."

Five Years Old.

On May 11-12, 1940, at Stewart, Nevada, was held the fifth annual Wild Flower Show. The first one was held in 1935. The various Indian Day Schools and Sub-Agencies have become plant-conscious through the years, and annually, except for 1939, which was a bad year for flowers, the Wild Flower Show has built up public, student and adult Indian interest in plants native to the range.

In addition to the Day School and Stewart exhibits, the various extension agents brought valuable collections of range grasses and plants, good and bad to the show for identification. Many of these were pressed and included in the scrapbooks, adding materially to the plant picture of Carson Agency ranges.

Aiding in identification of plants and their uses, there has been a thinking-back, a deliberate remembrance, which has been a valuable contribution and gift from adult Indians to their young folks.

Text of Roots.

In recognition of these gifts, the sophomore class had for its share of the Wild Flower Show, a study of plants used by Indians for foods and medicines. A valuable part of this exhibit was a collection of roots, seeds and berries still used for food by the Fort McDermitt Indians. This collection was exhibited at the Nevada Jubilee, October, 1939. It won first prize there, and was then presented to Carson School by the Fort McDermitt Indians.

The sophomore class, still under direction of Miss Zelia Taylor, also made special drawings and studies of food and medicinal plants, which have been included in the 1940 herbarium scrapbooks.

The beautiful new gymnasium housed the show during its weekend of life. There was room for all exhibits—from the tiny school at Reese River, which sent very few flowers (too high and too early) but which did send a remarkable lot of grasses and range plants, complete to the last root—to the big showing made by the boarding school, divided into classes, according to elevation. Reese River also sent a poster, drawn with wavering childish fingers, with a rangy cow looking surprisedly at a typical Indian horse with ID branded on his left hip.

It Started There.

It was on Reese River, Yomba Reservation, at the CCCIL camp in 1938, that the Range Botanical Project began, in a study of the plants and grasses of that high country. Two scrapbooks of plants and identifications were made there, and included was information collected from Indian stockmen at that camp and from Forest Rangers familiar with that area.

Went Over Area.

In 1939 over a period of five months a survey of Fort McDermitt, Pyramid Lake, Walker River Reservations was made, with the addition of the Jacks Valley ranches operated by Carson Indian School. Scrapbooks were made in triplicate for these areas. Besides the pressed specimens, photographs, minute botanical descriptions and digests of botanical information from government bulletins were inserted, to make a portable index available at a moment's notice. These scrapbooks were distributed one to each Day School, one for each Reservation, to the Carson Indian School, and the same to the Agricultural Department of Carson Agency.

Specimens Were Kept.

In addition to the scrapbooks of 1939, two more were made in 1940. These covered the same terrain as their predecessors, but filled in gaps and completed the work. Many new photographs were obtained and included, illustrating the interest of Indians old and young.

To Be Exhibited.

Supplementing the scrapbooks, 30 handsome Riker mounts have been made, and 80 celluloid mounts for classroom use. These were made by the students from instructions given by Oregon State College at Corvallis. The Riker mounts cost 93 cents each, the celluloid mounts 23 to 33 cents each, and are indestructible. Forty of the celluloid mounts will be exhibited at Chemawa and Santa Fe summer schools. Directions for making these mounts, and for pressing, mounting and other botanical activities were assembled, and will be available for teachers and others interested.

Easy To Know.

Vegetational maps for the same areas studied have been made in sets of five. These are the subjects treated: Grasses, Browse Plants, Indian Food Plants, Indian Medicine Plants, Stock-Poisoning Plants. With a set of these maps on the wall, and the scrapbooks and mounts, one has a bird's eye view of the plant growth on Carson Agency. Surplus plant specimens have been named, placed in folders, and returned to the places where they were collected to supplement the other information on hand.

Were Widely Circulated.

In 1939, two Classroom Texts were written by teachers of Carson School, and have been in active use, during the past school year. These were mimeographed. Once a copy was wasted, they will be used again next year. The text, "Desert Friends," has been enthusiastically studied by fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth grades, and "Nevada Range Plants" by tenth and eleventh grades. In connection with use of these texts, field trips have been made and original work and contribution of Indian names and uses of plants encouraged.

All Were Interested.

High lights of this work have been the enthusiastic interest and cheerful co-operation of teachers, employes and range men, who contributed not only time and plant specimens, but valuable information.

A by-product, educationally valuable, has been the training of students in the preparation and mounting of specimens, and in the use of the scrapbooks, texts and field notes collected for their benefit.

She Had Foresight.

It took vision to see the value of such a project. Our former Superintendent, Alida Bowler, had the vision and perseverance to begin and to carry it on. Superintendent Don Foster has helped to see it completed.

From the Indian Service viewpoint this project is unique. It has completed a Range Survey, which is a compact and living and breathing thing. This subject so largely visual, appeals to Indians, naturally close observers, and the treatment of the plants discussed, is in a manner which realizes the worth and value of information which it is desired to convey. Ample space is provided in both texts and scrapbooks for valuable addenda, which may be forthcoming.

Will Interest Young.

To the student of Indian life and usage this project is also vital, because among uses and information gathered by the young people from their old ones are preserved something of the history and customs of a race, which wrested from seemingly barren surroundings, something for its every need.

Island Boy Talks To Morticians At Sonoma

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Eversole attended the regular meeting of Redwood Empire Funeral Directors at Sonoma Grove Friday evening. About 45 morticians and salesmen of the Allied Industries were there to enjoy an interesting program arranged by Ernest Evans of Sonoma. Claude Burke, clever ventriloquist and his "dummy" Jerry, of San Francisco, offered the comedy portion of the program. W. H. Peters, high school student from Hawaii gave a 10-minute talk on "Americanism." He was winner in the Hawaiian Island debating competition, speaking on the subject of Americanism and the Eversoles felt it was one of the finest addresses of its kind they had ever heard. Everett Foster, of Santa Rosa, sang, accompanied by his wife. Mr. Eversole is president of the Redwood Empire group. The next meeting will be held at Napa in July.

Illegal Actions Of Olson Are Found Not Reviewable

RESTRAINT IS CUT OFF

of more than 9000 felons confined in State prisons.

3—The court action brought by the old board to stay the Governor's hand will be automatically dropped.

4—The famous spots on the floor of the prison's "Siberia" were ordered abolished. It was the beating of men on the spots which brought the charge of condoning brutality in the trial.

5—Prisoners will be permitted to subscribe to California newspapers, instead of only papers from out of the state.

6—Dinner hour was made one hour later so that convicts won't get hungry between the evening meal and breakfast. It will be served at five to six; instead of four to five.

7—Hundreds of men will be moved from San Quentin and Folsom, most of them to Chino, now building in San Bernardino county, to relieve congestion in the northern prisons.

8—A new warden probably will be appointed at San Quentin. He may be a man famous as a penologist in the East, who will come here to train a Californian for the San Quentin job.

O'Brien, Harvey and Warden Smith first conferred behind closed doors. It was at this time Mr. O'Brien, as chairman of the old board, ordered Warden Smith to bar the new board from the premises.

MOST PRISONERS CONFINED TO CELLS

Warden Smith defied him, and issued orders to guards at the gate to admit the new board upon arrival.

Harvey at last said he believed Smith was right in refusing to defy the new board, and that it was useless to continue the fight.

O'Brien stalked from the warden's office, the look of defeat on his face.

He stood alone in the fight from that time on.

The prisoners, except those with service jobs, were kept confined in their cells. The immense yards were virtually deserted. In one corner of the main yard 30 men were squeezing lemons for lemonade to be served on July 4. The lemon juice was squeezed into large barrels.

The new board, upon arrival, took a quick look inside the prison yard and the jute mill (now being air conditioned) and then went to the second floor of the administration building.

O'BRIEN WASTES NO TIME ATTACKING

The fireworks started. O'Brien faced the new board, consisting of Judge Pacht, Christopher T. Merchant, George A. Briggs and Hugh L. Spears. The fifth appointee, Dr. W. Earle Smith is in the east.

O'Brien wasted not a moment in wading into John Gee Clark, State Director of Penology, and the man who filed the charges against the old board.

"Clark is a vicious political bushwhacker!" O'Brien said.

A short time later Harvey added the word "pup" in addressing Clark, and Clark, turning to a reporter, smiled and said:

"I guess they don't like me."

CONSIDERATION ASKED FOR EMPLOYES

Mr. O'Brien admitted his defeat. Red-eyed and furious, as a soldier capitulating to a superior foe, he asked consideration for the "troops."

"I expect no consideration for myself, but I want to ask you to be considerate of the employes. They went along with us through a sense of loyalty. You'll find them just as loyal to you.

"I issued the order to bar the new board from the reservation. I was opposed in my own board, and while I could not see my way to reverse my stand, I could not enforce my order.

"The Prison Board has made the best fight it could, but I am convinced the illegal power exerted by Governor Olson is so dovetailed in with legal technicalities, the unfairness of the Governor cannot be overcome. It will serve no good purpose to hide from you the fact I know the fight I headed has been lost.

"My sincere hope is you gentlemen give California as good a prison administration as we have tried to give.

"I have no feelings against the new board and, if I can, I will assist you. I did my best to beat you and I lost."

Warden Court Smith promised his "whole-hearted support" to the new board.

were either branded or marked and these brands and marks were registered at Sacramento and Ukiah and most stockmen were familiar with them. Many of the fences in that section were made of redwood rails and only enclosed plow land and orchards to keep the stock out.

He Was First.

Mr. Knight enclosed his ranch with a high grade woven wire fence which was the talk of all northern Mendocino county. Remember, he owned more than 10,000 acres, which extended from the Sherwood wagon road to Eel river. There were actually miles of this fence and cross fences and all the posts were of selected redwood and the cost amounted to thousands of dollars. Other innovations could be mentioned but this shows what kind of outlay Mr. Knight made. As before stated this ranch was his real home and he passed as much time there as he possibly could and it was his intention to live there after he retired. He had a nice home in a desirable residence district in San Francisco but he preferred to live in the wilds of Mendocino county.

Loved Fine Horses.

Those were the horse and buggy days and Mr. Knight owned a team of spirited horses he loved to drive and when he came to Willits for his weekends one of the ranch hands always met him at the Willits depot and Mr. Knight drove home. He also had a splendid saddle animal which he used to ride over his ranch.

Gave Land Away.

After automobiles were introduced and the agitation started for the building of Redwood highway the right-of-way men called on Mr. Knight for several miles of the highway through his ranch. All he told them was first to draw up the legal description and when this was done he signed the deed without any charge for damages. He did the same thing when the railroad was extended from Willits to Eureka.

Good To Neighbors.

Mr. Knight stocked his ranch with pedigreed animals and encouraged neighboring ranchers to do likewise. He sold them good breeding animals for about the same as they would have to pay for scrubs. He gave his time and money for every worthy civic undertaking and if my memory is right, he even voted in Laytonville instead of San Francisco. When he was in Mendocino county he dressed plain and he was the only man who was allowed to eat at the Hotel Willits dining room without a coat when the thermometer registered 100 in the shade. This made him conspicuous but all of the waitresses liked to serve him, for he was liberal with his tips.

He Could Talk.

George A. Knight was an orator who could word paint a lily so white and so pure one could almost smell it and his personal magnetism was so great he could move an audience to either tears or laughter. Some 50 years ago he built up his large and lucrative law practice in San Francisco by his ability to make juries do what he pleaded for.
